I ILLINOIS

We've created a list of 10 things you should consider as you and your child prepare for Illinois.

As a top-ranked university, we help some of the nation's most talented students develop the skills necessary for success in any field they choose to pursue. Through our support and yours, your child won't have to worry about the future.

1. LEARN THE FACTS ABOUT ILLINOIS

Statistics and rankings aren't everything, but they help showcase who we are and what we value.

How many students attend our university, and how many states and countries do they represent? How many majors and courses do we offer, and what's our student-to-faculty ratio? How do we match up against other schools? Discover the answers to these questions and more.

2. SCHEDULE A CAMPUS VISIT

Visiting campus is one of the best ways for your child to decide whether a university is the right fit.

We offer two types of programs: Daily Visits are smaller in size and shorter in length, while Orange and Blue Days are larger, day-long open houses. Both include an overview of Illinois, a student panel, and a campus tour, among other activities. Check out our upcoming options and sign up for a day that works for your family!

3. REVIEW THE ESTIMATED COST TO ATTEND ILLINOIS

Learn how much your child may pay, including potential aid.

Visit us online to calculate your child's estimated cost of attendance. The exact amount will depend on their major, housing, meal plan, and overall lifestyle. You can also estimate the amount of financial aid your child may receive.

4. UNDERSTAND ILLINOIS AS AN INVESTMENT

Illinois doesn't just provide the complete college experience—it prepares your child for what comes next.

In addition to possessing a strong alumni network, Illinois plays host to big-name recruiters from Fortune 100 companies. Discover the success our students achieve after graduation, including where they're employed, the average salaries they're making, and what graduate schools they're attending.
